Description

Shawe Physio is looking for an enthusiastic and compassionate Women's Health Physiotherapist to join our growing multidisciplinary private practice in Hoddesdon.

This is an exciting opportunity for a clinician with a passion for pelvic health and women's wellbeing to develop their role within a modern, evidence-based private clinic environment alongside an experienced rehabilitation team.

We are seeking a physiotherapist who is confident working independently whilst also valuing collaborative multidisciplinary care and excellent patient experience who has ideally completed the Mommy MOT program.

his employed part-time position offers flexibility between 8 and 20 hours per week:

Clinic sessions can be arranged flexibly around the successful candidate's availability and may include daytime and/or evening clinics.

The successful applicant will manage a varied private women's health caseload which may include:

- Pelvic floor dysfunction
- Mommy MOT
- Antenatal and postnatal rehabilitation
- Post-caesarean rehabilitation
- Return to exercise support
- Urinary incontinence
- Pelvic pain
- Prolapse management
- Core rehabilitation
- MSK conditions related to pregnancy and postpartum
- Menopause-related musculoskeletal issues

There is also opportunity to contribute to:

- Education workshops
- Exercise-based rehabilitation services
- Collaborative care pathways
- Development of women's health services within the clinic

Why work with us?

Shawe Physio was founded off the back of Michael Shawe's frustrations with working in both the NHS and the Private sector as a Physiotherapist. In the NHS he found he was unable to give his patients the standard of care they deserved due to short appointment times and limited numbers of appointments available to patients, as well as patients having to wait a very long time to see clinicians.

In the private sector he found that many practices were overly revenue focused, encouraging practitioners to sell packages of care rather than treat the cause as efficiently as possible.

Michael wanted instead to form a practice that focused on treating patients how he himself wished to be treated – by always putting the patients' interests' firsts, focusing on true care that educated and empowered patients and always aimed to treat the cause of the issue not just the symptoms. His approach focuses on a mixed stance of manual and exercise therapy with the best current evidence-based treatments in mind.

Since opening Shawe Physio in 2015, the clinic has grown into an expert team of clinicians, with MSK base qualifications, individual specialisms and mountains of great experience.

Thanks to all the great members of our team, Shawe Physio has become an exceptional place to work, with outstanding patient reviews and unparalleled customer experience.

Our regular team socials are an important part of our team culture and we pride ourselves on a supportive and enjoyable workplace environment, challenging and encouraging our staff to be the best they can be.
